

Arctic Cat Announces CMR Sponsorship and Contingency

700 Mud Pro Featured in Mud Pro Class

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Thief River Falls, Minn. (April 15, 2009) – Arctic Cat revolutionized mud riding when the Mud Pro 700H1 was introduced as a 2009 model. Not only is it the first stock ATV designed with snorkels and 28” mud tires that can tackle muddy stuff out of the box, it is the first to have its own mud racing class.

Arctic Cat will be the official sponsor of the Mud Pro Class 2. Both Arctic Cat and Championship Mud Racing (CMR) feel like this is a perfect fit for the 2009 Arctic Cat Mud Pro.

“We want to show the world of mud riding enthusiasts that the Mud Pro 700 can be competitive off the showroom floor. That’s why we’re going to back up the class with a larger factory contingency”, said Ted Bettin, Team Arctic ATV Race Coordinator.
